JUST IN CASE YOU haven't noticed...we are trying to change the style of our Mast Head. Last week's didn't turn out quite like we wanted it. This week we are trying again. We know what we want the thing to look like, but we will have to experiment until we get the right combination for the right results.

FOR SOME UNKNOWN reason we feel that we should make a change in the format of the paper each year. Last year, if you remember, we began the green paper...and began our total paid circulation operation. We would like to report in case you are interested...we are very pleased with the results. So if you are not receiving The Press each week and want it...give us a buzz and we will have one of our "Carrier Businessmen" contact you.

WE FEEL VERY FORTUNATE in being happy with our work...and we pity those who do not feel the same about their work. Sometimes we run across people that spoil our day, but by and large most of the people we come in contact with are regular human beings. It certainly makes our job a lot easier.

WHAT BROUGHT THIS SUBJECT about, was that we happened to think about the way people are treated by the female employees at the City Hall. We have yet to see one of them not give the best of service. In this group we include all of the gals in the building.

SEVERAL TIMES DURING the past year, we have been asked by Campbell Avenue merchants "Why doesn't the City clean the streets?" Of course while the guy is talking he is sweeping the dirt off of the sidewalk into the streets. It happened again the other day.

WHILE MOST OF THE merchants sweep the sidewalks each morning there are many...too many who hardly ever do so. We can not remember the sidewalks being swept on both sides of the street any one time. While we must admit that parking and widening will help the business climate downtown, maybe sweeping the sidewalks should be tried first. Some really look awful, and the shoppers notice it.

WE CAN REMEMBER TALKING TO Mr. Goldman of the Golden Rule Department store one morning, as he was picking up the sidewalk dirt. He told us that many other cities have ordinances prohibiting the sweeping of sidewalks into the gutters. Maybe the City Fathers ought to think about it. With the beginning of the new calendar, maybe the local merchants ought to start a drive of "sweep up every morning".

Public invited to formal opening of museum

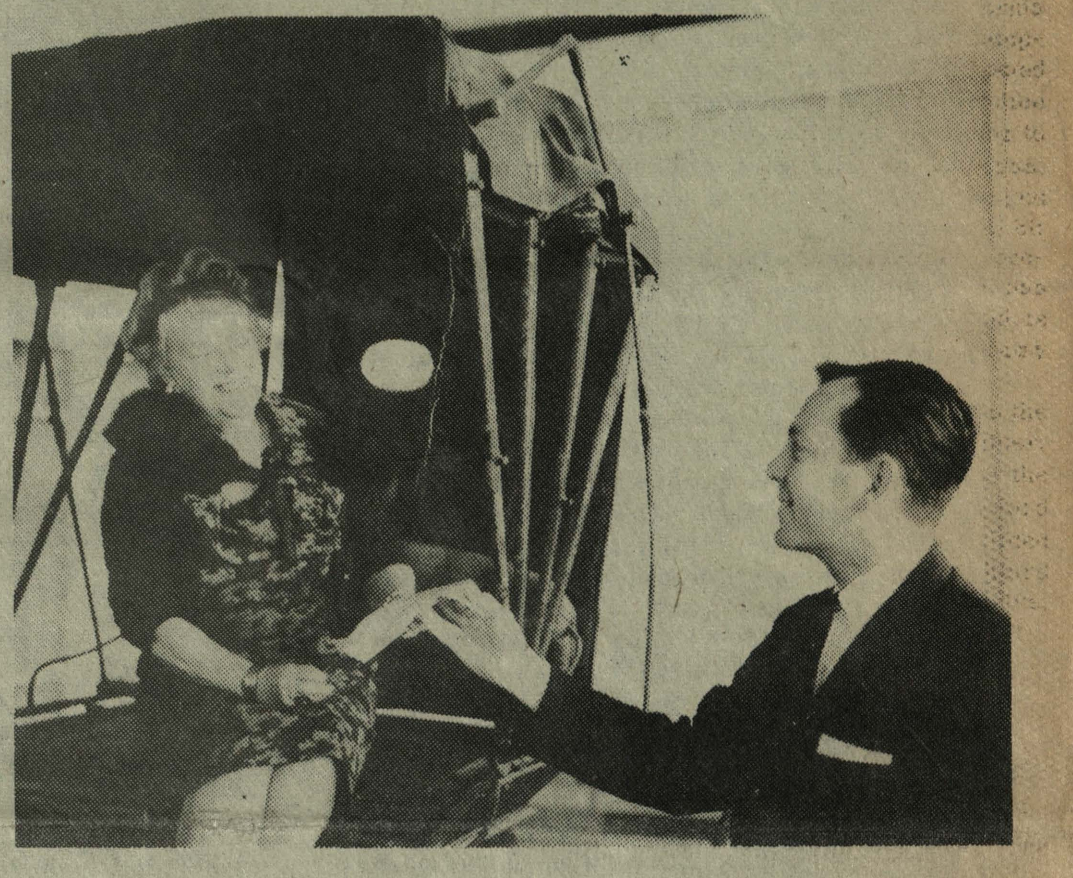
On Sunday, January 12, the much anticipated opening of the new Campbell Museum and Cultural Center will be held. The project is the work of the Campbell Country Woman's Club, which for 59 years has been the center of the cultural development of the city.

The Museum will house relics of California's and Campbell's past. Many local residents have come forth with items of interest. The public is invited to attend the opening, Sunday, at 12 o'clock noon. The Museum is located in the Club House of the Country Woman's Club at 272 Campbell Avenue.

The Club House will also be used as a Cultural Center where art exhibits, hobbies, and concerts can be held. The first exhibit will be given by Campbell's illustrious artist, Francis H. Cutting, who will display his paintings during the month of January.

Campbell City Council members and Mayor Peter B. Lico have been invited to attend the opening of the Center. President Mrs. E.A. Howe, other officers of the Woman's Club, Mrs. Courtland Watson, chairman of the project, and Mrs. Dean Andrus, curator of the Museum, will be on hand to greet the public. Refreshments will be served.

The Campbell Country Woman's Club, which was started back in 1905, pioneered the establishment of a free library in Campbell. Members operated the library until 1962, when the County Library Department took over full maintenance and moved to larger quarters on Campbell Avenue. If the establishment of the library were all that the Club had done in its long history, it would have been worthwhile; but there are the intangibles such as the fostering of worthy talent within the community, and the encouragement of free speech on subjects of general interest. The Country Woman's Club is hopeful that local residents will visit the museum and participate in the project in any way possible.



HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS RETURN--Mrs. H. Leigh Cross, member of a pioneer Santa Clara County family, has offered this buggy, a relic of the olden days in Campbell, to be displayed at the new Campbell Museum and Cultural Center, which opens this Sunday, January 12. David R. Finch, local attorney, will handle all legal matters for the Center and act as laison for the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Robert C. Stephens of Delano appointed City Manager

Mayor Peter B. Lico announced today the appointment of Robert C. Stephens, 43, presently City Manager of Delano, Calif., as the new City Manager of Campbell. Stephens will take over his duties here on Monday, February 10.

Stephens comes to Campbell with a background of experience in public administration. A graduate of the University of Washington, he has served as Delano's City Manager since March, 1961. During that time he has obtained approval of major capital improvements to the City of Delano's water and sanitary sewer systems. Prior to his position with Delano he served as Assistant City Manager at Sunnyvale and Urban Renewal Director. There he handled all annexations, coordinated the parking district and directed the planning phase of the Urban Renewal Project, the downtown business district. He also has served as Director of Parks and Recreation in Sunnyvale.

Stephens is married and has three children, ages 19, 16 and 11. During World War II he served in the Army Air Force. He is a native of Wapota, Washington.

Stephens succeeds Walter T. Thompson who resigned in early December for reasons of health. Salary for the position was set at $13,500 annually. One of the first projects to be handed over to the new City Manager will be the formation of a down-town improvement district in Campbell.

Two local girls honored by UC

Sandra Zoe Cook, 178 Catalpa Lane, a graduate of Campbell High School and Maria Elena DeMarco, 1511 El Solyo Ave., from Del Mar High School, were honored by the University of California at Berkeley with the highly selective "Honors at Entrance" award for top scholastic achievement in high school. Their names were announced along with 526 freshmen who enrolled this past fall at U.C.

To qualify for the annual award, a student must have all or nearly all A's in high school subjects on which college admission is based. A "B" average in these subjects is normally required for admission to the University.

Local suspects in custody of San Jose police

Two youthful suspects in the burglary of the Golden State Cleaners, George Allen Bailey Jr., and James McConnell, are being held by San Jose Police charged with one count of burglary and 7 counts of forgery. According to Campbell Police Sgt. R.W. Eddlemon, McConnell has admitted the burglary of the Golden State Cleaners in September and October of last year in which approximately $700 was stolen.

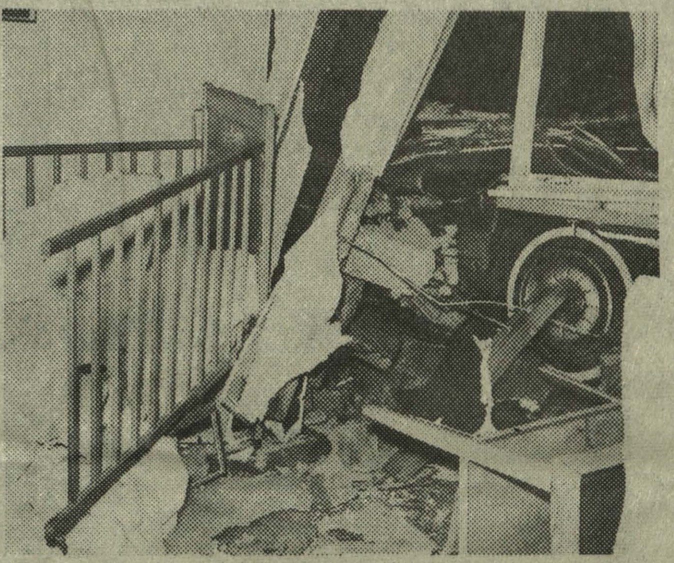
McConnell implicated Bailey in the thefts, stating that Bailey had entered the premises on two other occasions.

First graduate of Campbell High dies in Oakland

The first graduate of Campbell High School in 1901 died in Oakland, December 15. He was Charles Alexander Beardsley, 82, an attorney. Beardsley, who attended Campbell High for his junior and senior year, was the only graduate that year. He later attended Santa Clara University and Stanford. He eventually became president of the American and California Bar Associations.

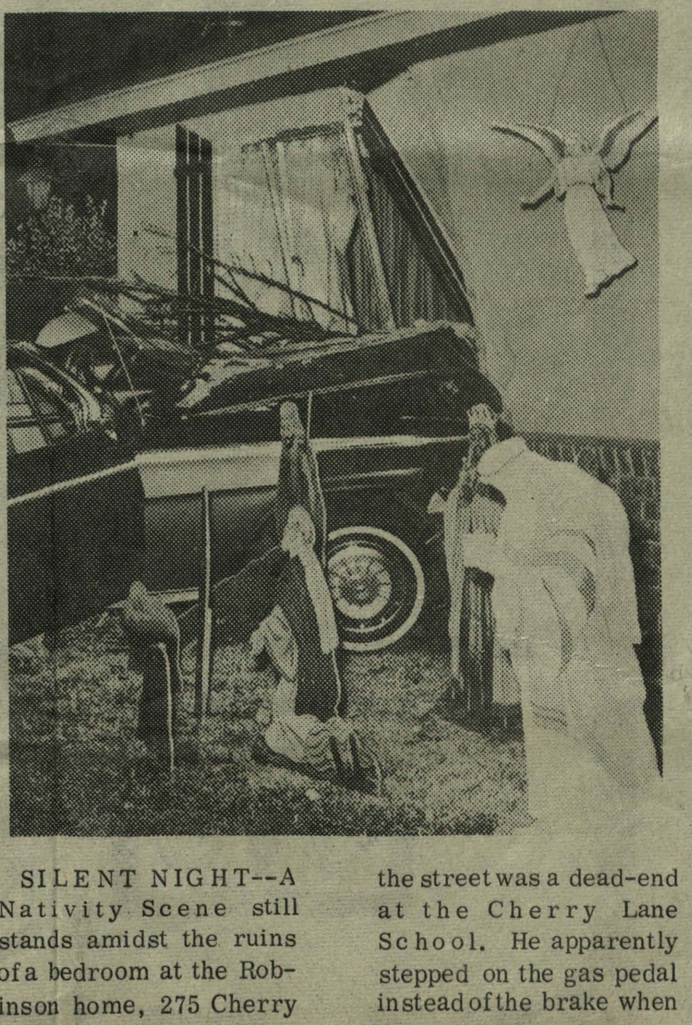
He served as Oakland's assistant City Attorney in 1911 and in 1929 he was elected president of the California Bar Association and to the American Bar Association in 1939. At Campbell High School he was active in the Do Donna Literary Society, which published a monthly literary magazine. Beardsley has been named to the Campbell High School Hall of Fame, along with four other prominent Campbellites including Phillip Farley, Billy Wilson, and Emil Mrac.

LAST BABY OF THE YEAR--Little Marcie Allene Olivera, baby daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Olivera, 13152 Heath St. on December 31 at Campbell Community Hospital, winks an eye for the camera to remind us she is a 1963 tax deduction.



A BABY SLEPT HERE--Miraculously, little 2 year old Richard Robinson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Robinson, escaped injury when a car rammed his bedroom in the early morning hours of January 4. Little Richard's crib was broken apart and he slipped to the floor without suffering any injury.

All pictures courtesy of Wm. B. Bratton.



SILENT NIGHT--A Nativity Scene still stands amidst the ruins of a bedroom at the Robinson home, 275 Cherry Lane Avenue. The driver of the car, according to Campbell Police, apparently did not know the street was a dead-end at the Cherry Lane School. He apparently stepped on the gas pedal instead of the brake when he attempted a fast turn around and rammed through the fence, trees and posts.

Retired Manpower Club wants more members

Clair L. Churchman, director of the West Valley Retired Manpower Club, reports there is a need for more members in the 62 and over age bracket, to fill calls for jobs that are coming into the organization's office. Churchman, the founder of this West Valley community service organization, states all types of retired workers are needed. At this point, Churchman said, there is a need for painters and carpenters. A registration fee of $1.00 is the only charge, according to Churchman, until a registrant is placed in a part-time job, and then a small fee is charged. The organization is non-profit.

Social security information is also available to members, according to Churchman. Any man interested in registering for part-time employment or who wishes to volunteer his services in any way to this worthwhile organization is requested to contact Churchman at the club's offices at 180 Villa Avenue, Los Gatos, or by calling 354-1678.

John Carrol out on bail; charged with hit and run

A warrant for the arrest of John H. Carrol, proprietor of the California Trading Co., 328 E. Campbell Ave., has been issued by the Campbell Police Department. According to Police Chief John Morgan, Carrol is being charged with two complaints of hit and run driving and property damage. He has posted $220 bail and is waiting a preliminary hearing.

Carrol, according to the Investigating Officer, George Wallace, is the owner of the 1961 Ford which allegedly collided with a car driven by Edward Abner, 4956 Morden Drive, on December 17

Editorial

Ed. Note: The following is reprinted from an article appearing in the November issue of Industrial Review. It originally appeared in the Herald Journal, Syracuse, New York, written by Alexander F. Jones.

Although it was written for readers in New York, we sincerely believe that California's laws need revising in this matter.

We personally became involved along these same lines several months ago. We were told by a state agency what we should pay our son, and how many hours he was to work. The matter of attending school did not enter the picture. We have always taken a keen interest in the school work of any student working with us. Whether he be a Grammar school, High school or College student. We have always insisted that school studies come first.

In our opinion, this is a serious problem and is rapidly becoming worse. Are we to wait until it is too late before we as taxpayers wake up to the fact that these students need help? And the other question we would ask... When is too late?

"JOBS FOR KIDS"

By Alexander F. Jones
Reprinted From Herald-Journal
Syracuse, New York

The undersecretary of labor, John F. Hennings, sees in the youth unemployment problem, already critical, one of the most explosive social questions facing the country. He reports that in the next two or three years millions of teenage youngsters will be thrown on the labor market with little or no training and that there will be no jobs for them unless they receive additional training.

One of the things that makes my back hair stand up is to have federal or state labor department or social welfare executives sound off about unemployment of young people just out of school in their teens. For these are the people, more than others, who are responsible for the laws on the books today, both federal and state, which make it practically impossible for anyone to hire youngsters from 15 to 20 years old.

The laws on the books today governing so-called child labor are responsible, more than any other factor, in creating juvenile delinquency and youth unemployment problems. They have made it impossible for either big industry or small business to hire youngsters without going through so much expense and red tape that employers have thrown up their hands.

Child labor laws were originally passed to prevent slavedriving violators of human laws from using real children—11 or 12 years—in mills and loft operations for long hours. They are a necessity in an enlightened society.

But once such laws are on the books you can be absolutely certain social bleeding hearts—mostly spinsters of uncertain age and their male counterparts whose outstanding characteristics are thick glasses and dandruff--will be before the legislative committees demanding additional restrictions.

Add to this the necessity of the employer having to pay social security, unemployment insurance, make out reports on working hours and working papers and the hazards of the employment and a dozen other red tape requirements, and he decides the advantages are not worth the effort.

A boy of 15 years who wants to work in vacation time and cannot get a job because he cannot get working papers is just another kid on the streets looking for excitement -- and sometimes looking for trouble.

Don't blame the businessmen for not hiring him. They can't.

But I do know that a boy who is spending his summers earning his first real money is gaining something that he will never lose -- pride and a sense of independence. And if he is continuing on after vacation he can often get as good training on the job as in school.

I often wonder if these social welfare officials know anything about boys.

It is a wonderful thing to rattle the money in your pocket that you have made yourself. The summer I was 13 I had a job pulling weeds for the Vaughan Seed Company at 50 cents a day.

The next summer — at 14 — I got 75 cents a day as water boy on a sewer gang and this was increased to a princely $1 a day when I promised the mayor I would not load any more dynamite. The next summer I was a $1.25 a day pulp scaler at the papermill -- in the big money. And then, out of high school at 16—I ran a country weekly for Mr. Drumb, who had to go to Hot Springs for his rheumatism.

Millions of American men can tell the same story and tell it with pride. Child labor, hell.

Before Mr. John F. Henning or any other labor or welfare department official can blame employment of American youth on automation or any other reason they should take a good look at the obstacles thrown in the way of employers today who would like to help deserving youngsters but who are not permitted to work to do so.

If there is anything that is badly needed in the way of legislation in New York State it is a reform of our juvenile working laws.

Letters to the Editor

The Philipines
Dec. 30, 1963
Dear Joe:

When Mrs. Olds and I visited the U. S. National Cemetery at Manila a few days ago we were so deeply moved emotionally that we wished everybody could visit this great monument to American patriotism. It is in a class with Arlington and the Lincoln Memorial for bringing a lump into the throat. I cannot begin to describe it in a few words here.

After very rough and stormy sailing from Honolulu to Yokahama we had an evening in port, then two days at sea again, a day on Okinawa, another day at sea and four days in Free China, or Taiwan. On Christmas day we had breakfast in Free China, lunch in the air high above the South China Sea, and dinner in the heart of Luzon Island, Philipines. During our week here we have visited Manila, spent the week-end at Bagino, the Tahoe of Luzon (without the lake) high in the mountainous interior. Today we visited a pygmy village. We have seen rice and sugar cane by the thousands of acres, water buffaloes by the hundreds, and children seemingly by the million. The poverty of the Orient makes us appreciate California all the more.

On January 2 we leave for Saigon, South Viet Nam; Bangkok, Thailand; then possibly Singapore or New Delhi before going to Hong Kong and back to Japan. We are taking many pictures, hoping some will come out ok; and when we get back to Campbell we'll bore all our friends to death with pictures and talk about a wonderful trip! Our trip to Bagino, past so many picturesque Filipino villages and up an endless steep and narrow road zig-zagging thru a narrow mountain gorge, was an experience in itself. But once there, the cool mountain air was most refreshing after the steaming, hot and humid lowlands and tropical jungle.

Air travel in these days enables us to cover so much territory in such a short time that we expect to see much more before our return around the end of January or first of February.

CORWIN and VELMA OLDS

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Today my guest columnist is Doug Bosco, a seventeen year old Sunnyvale resident who has just concluded a year as a Congressional Page. Doug wrote this during a recess in the all-night session of December 20 when we were struggling toward adjournment. - CSG

"It is five-thirty in the morning. Here in the cloakroom Members of Congress are talking, eating, grabbing a few moments sleep, or drearily watching the colored Christmas tree lights wink on and off. Pages are sprawled on benches, sofas and chairs. Outside, the sub-zero wind howls, and the Capitol beacon light signals that Congress is still in session.

"About five-thirty yesterday morning -- twenty-four hours ago -- most Pages turned off alarm clocks, donned their blue suits, grabbed school books, and headed for school on the top floor of the Library of Congress. These 50 boys, from all parts of the USA, hold responsible teen-age jobs, and the early hour is only one of many unusual conditions attached to their work. Before many schools in the country have rung their opening bells, Pages are heading across the street to the white-domed Capitol building where they work after school.

"Amidst the speaking, arguing, politics and confusion which accompany any session of Congress, the Pages quietly go about their duties. Some guard the doors, others file records, some deliver messages, some keep files of bills, and some answer telephones and bring the messages to Congressmen. As a phone Page in the House of Representatives Republican Cloakroom, this is my job. My three fellow phone Pages and I must know the names and faces of every one of the Members. We must know where they are and how they can be reached. We must take messages accurately and know exactly what business will be transacted during the day (each bill, its contents, and its amendments). It is a difficult and sometimes tiresome job, but the rewards are great. We have a chance to meet, and talk to, some of our country's most noted people -- from the President to John Glenn, from Everett Dirksen to Clare Boothe Luce. We learn to know many Congressmen as good friends. We know each Member's strong points, and his weak points -- his habits, and his faults.

"Being a Page is an experience I will never forget. I have learned many things about Congress and the men who represent the people of the United States. But the greatest lesson I have learned involves the importance of the ideas and initiative of each American. Those of us who know Congress know that it is an institution which cannot survive unless the people whom it represents are actively interested, and informed of the problems of their community, state and country.

"President Johnson said at our Page School graduation: 'You have been privileged to serve in one of freedom's greatest institutions -- the Congress of the United States. You know the frailties of its Members, but you also know the vastly greater strengths of all the institutions of our government and our country.'

"We sincerely believe that the people is this country's greatest institution."

$4,717,925 interest paid by Pioneer Investors Savings

A record-breaking fourth quarter interest payment estimated at $4,717,925. was disbursed December 31 to the more than 125,000 savings account holders of Pioneer Investors Savings and Loan Association, according to Sherman Miller, Executive Vice President and Managing Officer of Northern California's largest savings and loan association.

WV Community Orchestra is project of Adult Education

An encouraging omen in the cultural development of Campbell is the announcement of the formation of the West Valley Community Orchestra as part of the Campbell Adult Education program. Many local musicians will welcome the news, and they can be assured of the support and patronage of the whole community.

E. P. Stanley, Campbell Adult Education Director, reported that Raynold L. Allvin, Music Instructor at Blackford High School, will be the conductor, and that classes will be held at the Blackford High School, Blackford and Boynton Avenue. Tentatively, Tuesday nights have been set for practices. All trained musicians in the area are invited to sign-up anytime between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. at the Adult Education headquarters, 1945 Winchester Blvd., beginning January 6.

Outstanding new classes being offered for the first time by the Campbell Adult Education Department included Computer Planning and Uses, a non-mathematics course for Business, Industry and Clerical workers; and Nature Study, a class in Natural Science for the person interested in the outdoors.

New classes are also being offered in Reading Improvement, Creative Writing, General Mathematics, Algebra, Astronomy, Shorthand, Office Practice, Income Tax, Investments, Spanish, French, Beginning Art, Vocabulary, Reading, Writing and Spelling, Psychology, Welding, Autho Theory and Lab., Blueprint Reading and Electronics.

Kurt Ritters honored on anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Ritter Sr. were the guests of honor at an "open house" hosted by their three sons on New Year's Eve, in observance of the couple's twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The celebration, held at the family home at 119 E. Alice Avenue, was attended by a large gathering of friends.

A lovely wedding cake was the center of the buffet table and champagne and punch was served from another table beautifully arranged in the dining room. Miss Mary Beth Neal and Miss Martha Hyde presided over the guest book.

The couple's three sons, Kurt Jr., John, and Walter, were assisted in their preparations by Mesdames Kenneth Spencer, C. F. Helmbold, Richard Titus and Charles Bradley.

City issued 17 building permits in December

Seventeen building permits were issued by the City of Campbell during the month of December amounting to $159,110. This is $49,260 more than for the same period in 1962, when 14 permits were issued, according to W. L. Morser, Chief Building Inspector.

Largest single construction was a commercial building at 1650 West Campbell Avenue, built by Ira Kirkorian. Fees collected in December amounted to $1,344.55 and included Building Permits, Plumbing Permits, Electrical Permits, Heating Permits and Sewer Inspection Fees.

Woman's Club to host Loma Prieta

The History of Jewelry was the subject chosen by Mrs. Sallie Morton who spoke before the membership of the Campbell Country Woman's Club Monday afternoon. Mrs. Morton was the first woman in the United States to win American Gem's Society's Scholarship for advanced training. She now lectures on diamonds and gem stones before service clubs and groups. Mrs. G.H. Finigan was chairman for the day.

On Monday, January 13, the organization will be hostessing the Loma Prieta District. Mrs. Jack Thomas, Literature chairman of the California Federation of Woman's Club, will be the guest speaker. Hospitality chairmen, Mmes Karl Belser and Norman LaVegue will be in charge of arrangements. A coffee hour will be held at 9:30 a.m.

Lost: one helmet

The Campbell Fire Department is looking for a helmet lost on the way to a fire December 31. The loss occurred in the vicinity of Campbell Avenue and San Tomas Aquino Road. Actually, says Fire Chief George Maxwell, two helmets were lost, but one was recovered. The helmet is black plastic. The initials C. F. D. are printed on it. A reward is offered.
